THE NEW YORK PUBLIC LIBRARY

SUMMER READING 2018

DISCOVER GREAT BOOKS, PROGRAMS, AND MORE!
WELCOME TO

SUMMER
READING

at THE NEW YORK PUBLIC LIBRARY

Tune in to books and reading this summer! Books inspire our creativity, whether that means playing music, imagining new worlds, or solving problems. Use this guidebook to learn about all the ways the Library can help you take your reading to the next level throughout the summer—and all year long.

TURN TO THE BACK FOR THE READING RHYTHM GAME

Set a goal to read for 20 minutes every day—that’s all it takes to keep your reading skills sharp! Keep track of your progress with the game on the back cover, plus complete bonus rounds by visiting your library. Finish the game and you’ll be a reading rock star!
It’s never too early to start reading! Show your children the joy of books and learning by reading, talking, singing, writing, and playing with them every day. Read through for book picks, tips, and free programs and resources—from story times to early literacy kits—available at your local library branch. Learn more: nypl.org/abc

REASING TIPS

• Share your favorite childhood books with your little one. Young babies love hearing stories and looking at pictures. You can read just about anything out loud to your baby, as long as you are animated and having fun!

• Make a special time for reading. Whether you read a story right before bed or after breakfast in the morning, set aside a regular time during the day dedicated to reading with your child.

• Pack books in your bag. Having a book always on hand means you are ready to read together wherever you go. Take books about nature to the park or books about trains on the subway.

Fun ways both you and your child can enjoy this summer’s reading experience:
Reading Tips

- Practice early learning activities with your preschooler. Explore the ABC Mouse programs on our children's computers, available at every branch. Ask a librarian for more info!

- Take a picture walk with a favorite book. Talk about the images on each page and tell the story through pictures. Encourage your child to point out colors and shapes, and ask them questions about what they see.

- Read nonfiction books with your child. Follow your child's interests to explore books about dinosaurs, dogs, trucks, and more.

Family Literacy Workshops

Now held at almost every NYPL location, these workshops teach parents and caregivers how to read, talk, sing, write, and play with their children on a daily basis to help them build essential literacy skills.

Hands-on Science

Learn how music relates to literacy development, plus how to use visual and auditory cues to form a story. Every session will include a read-aloud, a hands-on activity, and wonderful tips for parents to make stories come to life!

Resources

NYPL Sings!

Discover the Library's new album of children's songs, written and recorded by NYPL staff! Each song represents a different way parents and caregivers can help instill young children with a lifelong love of reading and learning. Check out the CD at your local library and find the companion booklet of song lyrics in our free early literacy kit. You can also visit us online to find the lyrics and download the entire album for free: nypl.org/sings

ABC Read with Me Early Literacy Kit

Take home the Library's free early literacy kit! Available at almost any Library branch, the kit includes a board book with rhymes and finger-plays, plus other engaging materials in Spanish, Chinese, Bengali, French, Arabic, Korean, and Russian at select locations.
School may be over, but reading season is just beginning!

Keep the skills you learned this year sharp by reading chapter books, graphic novels, and more. Then visit the Library for cool programs on how music works, tech clubs, book talks, and other fun events. Rock 'n' roll 'n' read on! Learn more: nypl.org/kids

- Read out loud to your child, even once they start to read on their own. By reading together, you can continue to help introduce them to all sorts of books, including more difficult ones.
- Remember to keep it fun! Encourage your child to select and read books they truly enjoy, whether that's a picture book, a graphic novel, a nonfiction work, or a magazine. Build good reading habits by urging kids to read, no matter what format they choose.

Programs

TeenLIVE: Summer Reading Games Day

Saturday, July 28

Stephen A. Schwarzman Building

Ever want a book club, but for games? Join the Library this summer for a day-long adventure in literacy and imaginative play. From experimental video games to innovative tabletop campaigns, you can play, watch, and discuss with your fellow teens.

TeenLIVE programs are sponsored by the Andreas C. Dracopoulos Family Endowment for Young Audiences.

Teen Tech Clubs

Join friends to tinker with exciting new technology tools while advancing your skills in coding, digital media, and design. Find a club site or other tech programming at a library near you.

College Access

Questions about life after high school? Discover resources at the Library that can help you navigate college admissions and applications, and get you ready to go to college. Visit the following college access hubs, or go online for more information: nypl.org/collegeaccess

- Bronx Library Center, Bronx
- Grand Concourse Library, Bronx
- Hamilton Grange Library, Manhattan
- St. George Library Center, Staten Island

Resources

SimplyE

Find some of the books on this list and much more with the Library’s e-reader app, SimplyE. The app makes it easy to browse, borrow, and read more than 300,000 free e-books from the Library any time, anywhere. To get started, download SimplyE on your iOS or Android device, or visit us online: nypl.org/SimplyE

SimplyE has been made possible in part by the Institute of Museum and Library Services.

Music, Languages & More

Discover a wide array of free online resources, from language-learning programs to music, magazines, and more. You can also find articles that can help you to succeed with your homework and school projects throughout the year. Get into the Rhythm of Reading

- Check out a book
- Ask your librarian about their favorite book
- Attend a program (see p. 7, 11 & 14)
- Find a nonfiction book
- Recommend a book to a friend
- Write a book review and share it at your library

Make books an essential part of your summer. Check off or color in one small circle for every 20 minutes you read each day, and use your local library to complete the call-outs in the bonus circles. If you reach the end, you’ll complete 20 hours of reading. Read on!

You did it! Now, bring this page to your librarian and celebrate your success!

You’re a reading rockstar!
